Battery C Passes Federal Test, Opens New Centerville Armory

The first National Guard unit for Washington Township stood smartly at attention in its new Centerville Armory Tuesday night to receive hearty approval of a federal inspector.

Recommending Army recognition of Battery C, 629th Field Artillery Battalion was Capt. A. C. Denning, of Sixth Army headquarters.

Twenty privates and non-coms stood in ranks and Capt. O. J. Beaudin and Lt. Victor Schutsky were with Capt. Denning as he made his formal inspection. The Regular Army officer said the unit passed with flying colors.

Also on hand was Brig. Gen. Charles F. White of Stockton, commanding National Guard field artillery in Northern California. Gen. White, a veteran of two World Wars, told the men:

"You have a great opportunity to build a fine unit here."

Representing the Centerville Chamber of Commerce, which is backing the unit were LeRoy Broun and L. L. Cardoza. Broun heads chamber committe which will aid in a celebration when the Alder Avenue armory is formally dedicated some weeks hence.

The guardsmen drill Tuesdays at 8 o'clock, receive a full day's Army pay for learning military skills such as truck-driving, radio, and firing their 105-mm. howitzers.

Eventual enlisted strength is 98 men, according to Capt. Beaudin. The battery was moved here from Alamada but now contains mostly local youths, who are draft-exempt as long as they maintain their Guard status.

VOTING MAPS MAY STRAIGHTEN 'MESS'

County election officials this week are trying to straighten out precinct confusion which last year drew fire from local voters.

"Mimeographed maps are being mailed to each voter who doesn't have a house address we can readilylocate," says W. C. Koerner, deputy to County Clerk J. J. Kingston.

Registrants are asked to mark their location on the map and return it to Kingston's office for re-precincting. In this way the county clerk hopes to avoid the row which arose when some husbands and wives found themselves in different precincts, or when electors had to travel miles from their homes to vote.

Kingston said the move also is a preliminary to probable reduction in size of present voting precincts, and addition of new ones, owing to population growth in Southern Alameda County.

HOSTILE RESIDENTS ROUT ARMY, PG&E

The Army and the PG&E had to combine forces Tuesday to outflank an enemy which for a time threatened the opening of Centerville's National Guard armory.

The enemy: a swarm of bees, which for several years have made their home atop the former icehouse on Alder Avenue.

For three days the bees stood off PG&E installers who were trying to hook up electricity so the Guard could have lights for its first drill Tuesday night.

Finally Tuesday afternoon the utilitymen, urged on—from a safe distance—by District Manager Peter D. Juhl, braved the swarm and installed the wires, in the nick of time. The Guard, despairing, had already brought portable generators to light the place for its drill.

It was only a partial victory, however. The wires now lead into the building at a lower level, with the bees in possession up above

KIN OF PIONEERS PASSES IN HOME

One of the last survivors of the second generation of Washington Township pioneers died here Monday night.

She was Miss Emma Jane Norris, 93, who succumbed in her home at 334 S. Main St., Centerville.

Miss Norris was the daughter of Garrett S. Norris, who settled here in 1853, and who farmed in the Centerville region for many years. Miss Norris' mother was the former Johanna Turner, also a pioneer.

She was a twin sister of the late Harriet E. Norris, who died in 1951 at the age of 91. Survivors include a sister, Mary E., in Centerville; a brother David R., in Oakland; and a nephew, Judge Allen G. Norris.

Services are today (Thursday) at 8:30 p.m. in Chapel of the Palms, followed by requiem mass at Holy Ghost Catholic Church.

STILL CHANCE TO NAME SUBDIVISION

With construction slated to begin sometime this month on Dan Bodily's 159-home subdivision in the Shinn Orchard, next to the California Nursery at Niles, a flood of suggested names have been received for the new tract.

Bodily has promised to name a street after the person who submits the successful name.

Some of the suggestions—with the submitters—include:

1. "Rancho Nilesameda"—C. K. Dennis.
2. "Paradise Gardens"—Helen Miller.
3. "Pioneer Acres"—Mrs. A. V. Rose.
4. "Freedom Village"—Mrs. L. A. Vieux.
5. "Bodily Gardens" — Mrs. Annie R. Boliba.

Further names should be submitted to the Township Register, Niles.

DEMELLO NAMED TO TOWNSHIP CHAMBER MANAGER'S JOB

A. A. DeMello, stock salesman for a Newark bank, has accepted the secretary-manager-ship of the Washington Township Chamber of Commerce, according to Vernon Ellsworth, of Niles, chairman of a committee which last week was empowered to pick a new executive for the Township-wide organization.

Ellsworth said he and Gordon Cotton, Newark, called on DeMello last Thursday and offered him the job, "for expenses only," and that DeMello accepted. Ellsworth said he and Chamber President Maurice B. Marks, Mission San Jose, will confer with DeMello to acquaint him with his duties.

Budget of the Township Chamber got a belated boost when the June check for $150 "advertising expenses" was received from the Alameda County Board of Supervisors through the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, Ellsworth added.

Added to the town contributions of $630 per year, this makes a total of $2430 annually available for promotion of the Township for industry, etc.

The county money had been delayed in arrival, and some of the supervisors had hinted it might be withdrawn altogether if used for a secretary-manager's salary.

DeMello succeeds Dr. Eugene Manning, who quit effective June 1. DeMello has lived in Southern Alameda County most of his life, and once worked for the old State Bank when it was in Newark. Now he resides in Centerville.

CAN STRIKE ENDS

Settlement of the 8-day cannery strike Wednesday morning meant a return to work for some 800 seasonal employees.

The settlement came too late to help apricot growers, caught between the strike and a freak light rain over the week-end, which forced costly, resulphuring on many tray-drying 'cots.

However, the F. E. Booth and Alaco canneries were preparing to can peaches, with Booth slated to start operations Friday, according to Manager Maurice O'Brien. Peach canning will run until September 15, with a peak of nearly 600 persons employed. Then tomato canning will take over until November.

Niles and the foothill area was hardest hit by Sunday's sprinkle. Centerville drying 'cots escaped major damage.

Water District Renders First Report But Doubts Rate Cut Would Be 'Wise'

For the first time in the nearly 40 years of its existence, the Alameda County Water District made a public accounting of its finances and future plans on Monday, at a session of the Centerville Chamber of Commerce.

General Manager Mathew Whitfield announced:

1. The district has total assets of $1,258,553, before depreciation.
2. It now serves a record 3026 customers, including 487 new ones
3. A cut in water rates "would be unwise." in view of contemplated expansion to meet future growth.

"If we cut the rates," Whitfield told chamber lunchers, "We can't extend the mains."

After several such assertions by the district executive, Chamber Secretary LeRoy Broun commented:

"In other words, we're paying for future capital outlays through present rates." And Judge Allen G. Norris suggested:

"Why not float a bond issue and let future customers pay a share too, instead of us?"

Whitfield acknowledged that "the directors have discussed it."

Whitfield also reported:

1. The district's auditing system has been revamped by the San Francisco firm of Ernst & Ernst, to separate conservation costs—which are supposed to be paid out of taxes—from distribution costs—which are supposed to be paid out of revenues.

2. Proceeds from taxes during 1952-3 fiscal year amounted to $77,541. Conservation expenses were $19,816, bond interest $3570, which left a balance of $54, 154.

Water sales and connection fees totalled $144,455, distribution expenses were $50,471, leaving a profit of $50,715.

Capital expenditures for the past year, according to Whitfield, totalled $86,003, of which $45,378 went for 10,007 feet of new mains, 18 new hydrants, and the 487 new installations. Raising the percolation pit levee cost $10,625, and the district also retired a $30,000 bank note.

Whitfield pointed out that district policy of forcing subdividers to install their own mains and hydrants gave the area 25,708 feet of mains last year, valued at more than $180,000.

Speaking at invitation of the Centerville group, Whitfield noted that the first formal presentation of the report to district directors won't be made until August 12. However, Directors W. D. Patterson and E. M. Grimmer were on hand to listen.

Asked by Eugene E. Manning if district storage facilities are considered "adequate" by industry, Whitfield replied in effect that standby pipes to the Hetch-Hetchy pipeline are considered adequate, although the water is more expensive than that which the district draws from the ground.

"That's something we're going to have to investigate very thoroughly," he conceded.

Whitfield said rates generally are lower than are charged by the East Bay Municipal Utility District for areas outside its immediate bailiwick. Whitfield said the "average customer, who uses 1000 cubic feet a month," pays $3.80, compared to more than $4 for EBMUD outside Hayward.

Big users who pay $17.72 for 1500 gallons a day here would have to pay EBMUD $20.62 inside EBMUD districts, and $24.47 outside, he said.

Asked why Niles rates—charged by a private utility—are lower, Whitfield replied:

"We serve a more dispersed area, the water table around Centerville where we pump is much lower and costs more to pump, and we are trying to keep up with the growth."

He said that the Citizens Utilities Co. at Niles and Decoto spent only $10,000 in capital improvements during the past two years when the Alameda County Water District was spending $47,000.

CAPT. HOUSTON IS AWARDED MEDAL

Capt. Harry A. Houston, formerly a Centerville and Newark businessman, has been awarded the Bronze Star medal for meritorious service in Korea.

Capt. Houston was recalled to duty two years ago, and is starting his eighteenth month in Korea, according to his fiance, Miss Marjorie Silva of Centerville.

He is expected home late this month or in early September.

"Capt. Houston, a member of 194th Engineer Combat Battalion, is cited for meritorious service in connection with military operations against an armed enemy in Korea during the period 18 October 1952, to 18 July, 1953.

"As operations officer, Capt. Houston was responsible for the overall supervision, planning and coordination of battle operations while the unit was engaged in combat. His comprehensive knowledge and diligent application to every phase of his assignment were instrumental in the smooth and efficient functioning of the battalion.

"His loyalty, initiative and devotion to duty earned him the respect and admiration of all those with whom he served. The meritorious service rendered by Capt. Houston throughout this period reflects great credit on himself and the military service."

Bristow Says Work To Start In Fall

The State of California on Tuesday granted the Niles School District $318,074 to build its new school east of Ellsworth Orchard.

Supt. E. Dixon Bristow returned from Sacramento elated at the grant from the State Allocations Board. He estimated "dirt will start to fly in three months." The building should be finished by the fall of 1954.

The school district will match the State fund with $64,000 in bond money gained at the June election, plus $4213 from district reserves.

The new school is expected to ease overcrowding at the single downtown school, and provide close-to-home education for youngsters east of Highway 9.

It will contain nine classrooms, a kindergarten, large multi purpose room, kitchen, domestic science room, and administration offices. Total cost is estimated at $386,287 by Architects Simonds & Anderson of Oakland. land.

Bristow last night called a special meeting of his trustees to award a formal contract to the architects, who have designed several schools in Hayward and Castro Valley.

Simonds & Anderson were slated to submit priliminary sketches at this session. Final plans must be okehed by the State.

The State board made its decision after only a brief appearance by the local superintendent. Bristow reported Sen. Nelson S. Dilsworth, of Hemet, questioned him closely about two closed corridors in the proposed building, then moved to grant the subsidy.

The money comes from $185,000,000 voted last fall to aid districts like Niles, which have bonded themselves to the legal limit. Bristow said he expects to sell some $70,000 in bonds shortly to unthaw the State money. Local voters approved $150,000, but this cannot be used because assessed values aren't high enough.

That smooth salesman who offers to put a protective coating on your home "practically free . . ."

That vending-machine agent who'll guarantee you a big income on a "modest investment' . . .

These and other bunco artists were exposed before the Niles Rotary Club last week by Wesley Strouse, manager of the San Jose Better Business Bureau.

Strouse said such "sucker traps" victimized otherwise intelligent folks to the tune of $68,000 around San Jose in the first 10 weeks of 1953.

He warned prospects who suspect the legitimacy of "free" and "bonus" offers to (1) read the fine print carefully, (2) sign nothing—especially not in blank, and (3) phone the Better Business Bureaus—agencies established by legitimate businessmen—in San Jose or Oakland.

Strouse was introduced by Jack Parry.

NILES CC REVIVES SP PARKING PLEA

Niles this week revived the issue of using surplus Southern Pacific property for off-street parking.

Involved is a strip running east from I street at First, behind the hedge on the north side of First.

"It's unsightly since the hedge was trimmed," commented Chamber President C. W. Chrysler. I think we should write the S. P. and ask them if we can't use it for parking.

"It'd be a good Chamber of Commerce project."

Secretary Vernon Ellsworth was instructed to write R. S. McCann, district superintendent for the railroad in Oakland, to ask if the land could not be leased.

Several years ago the Junior Chamber of Commerce tried to get the property for a similar purpose but was turned down by the S. P., although the jaycees offered to make any concession the railroad asked.

VFW Drubs Pipe Challengers, 15-1, As Alamedas, Roderick Star At Bat

The league-leading Veterans of Foreign Wars unleashed a torrid 19-hit attack Friday night to hand second-place U. S. Pipe a 15-1 thrashing.

While the Vets were pounding base hits all over the field, their ace righthander Ted Garcia was limiting the Pipemen to three safeties.

Garcia had a no-hit, no-run game going for five frames, but third sacker Vic Perez spoiled that with a round tripper to open the sixth inning for Pipe's only tally.

The Vets started the rampage in the second as doubles by Ray Lebon and Stan Alameda plus singles by Al Lebon and Walt George produced three runs.

The Vets bats kept booming in the third as they picked up one run and followed five more in the fourth. Stan Alameda, Garcia, Don Lemos, and Stan Roderick singled and Ray Lebon picked up another two bagger in the explosive fourth stanza.

The league leaders added four more in the sixth with star catcher Harold Alameda's two run homer being the big blow.

Numbers 14 and 15 came in the seventh on singles by Roderick, H. Alameda and Lebon, plus a Pipe miscue.

Stan Alameda paced the Vets at bat, garnering four bingles in four trips. Pipe's right-hander Joe Sanchez suffered the loss.

Bearcats Squeak Past Bercovich As Errors Aid

By TONY ROGERS

Coming from behind in the fifth frame, the Bearcat nine posted a 5-4 win over E. Berkovich & Sons of Oakland in the local park last Sunday.

Bercovich's batters chased John Garcia from the mound in the first inning, but Frank Romero, reliefer held the visitors in check the rest of the route. Romero fanned 14.

The 'Cats did all their scoring in the 4th and 5th innings. One came in the fourth off a single by Stan Roderick, a sacrifice by Joe Dutra, and a base hit by Hal Alameda.

In the fifth, the Bercoviches committed three errors. Mel Alameda walked, John Lemos singled, and Romero doubled to give the locals four tallies—three of them unearned.

Bob Ochoa went the distance for Bercovich. He struck out nine.

Car Theft Suspects

Two brothers from Decoto will appear Friday to answer charges of stealing three cars in Decoto, Hayward and Hillview Crest.

They are Raymond Steagall, 20, of 313 Railroad Ave., and his brother Vernie, 18. Ray was arrested last week in a car which had been stolen earlier in Hillview Crest.

Deputies said the pair evidently took an auto for fun, drove them until they wrecked them, then abandoned the car for another

HUSKIES IN CLOSE LOSS TO SAN JOSE

The Washington Township Huskies dropped their third consecutive ball game of their summer season last Sunday as they were edged by the San Jose Merchants 6 to 5.

The Huskies dropped a 9-6 decision to Los Gatos two weeks ago.

The Merchants, who were previously beaten by the Huskies, had to come from behind in the late innings to win this one.

The locals were the first to score. They picked up one tally in the fourth on two Merchants errors.

Right-hander Bob Hird started for the Huskies and threw three scoreless innings, before giving way to Allan Olk. The Merchants picked up one run off Olk in the fourth and tied the score, 1-1.

The Huskies took a 3-1 lead in the sixth on John "Chico" Chacon's two-run double, then added one more in the seventh to hold a comfortable 4-1 lead.

Right-hander Bob Lunsford came in to take over the pitching chores in the seventh and the Merchants immediately got to him. They picked up four runs on three hits to take a 5-4 lead.

The San Joseans scored their final tally in the eighth and it proved the winner as the Huskies scored once in the top of the ninth.

The Huskies play the Los Gatos nine again this Sunday on the local diamond. Game time is 1:30.

CATHOLIC YOUTH CENTER FOR AREA

Catholic Youth Organization will establish a southern Alameda County branch office September 1 with a $1781 grant made by the board of directors of the Oakland Area Community Chest.

The grant was announced today by Peter Howard, president of the Oakland Chest, one of the six major causes financed by the United Crusade. The Chest budget committee had recommended the allocation on the basis of CYO research in the 15 Catholic parishes in the southern end of the county to determine need for a Catholic youth program there.

The branch will serve the 8300 Catholic children between the ages of eight and 19 in the area. The CYO program includes sociality clubs, parish youth clubs, and leagues for basketball, softball and other sports.

The director of the southern Alameda County program has not yet been named, according to the Rev. Thomas Lacey, executive director of the East Bay CYO. Headquarters will be in the Hayward Community Services Center, the Oakland Area Community Chest headquarters for the southern section of the county.

DEER SEASON OPENS HERE SATURDAY

Deer hunting conditions slightly better than last year have been forecast by the Department of Fish and Game for California's early coastal hunting season which opens one-half hour before sunrise, Saturday, August 8.

Nimrods taking to the dry hills of 26 central and south coastal counties—including Alameda—will find the deer in good shape, fire hazards high and conditions generally drier than last year.

Equipped with hunting licenses and deer tags, hunters have until September 13 to stalk their bag limit of two bucks in the counties of Mendocino, Lake, Colusa, Sonoma, Napa, Yolo, Solano, Marin, Contra Costa, Alameda, San Mateo Santa Cruz, San Benito, Monterey, San Luis Obispo,

Westerly portions of Stanislaus, Merced, Fresno, Kings, Kern and Riverside counties are included in the 37-day early hunting season.

Except for the Mendocino National Forest, Glenn County was moved by legislative action from the early season and placed in the September 19 to October 18 hunting season area.

Other recent legislative action tightens up on the law which revokes the license of a hunter who has shot another and makes it a felony to hunt with or without a license after conviction of such an offense. For the first time this year, the killing or wounding of a domestic animal while hunting is cause for revocation of hunting privileges for five years.

SUZY SEZ...

A handy place to put a can opener is on the inside of a cupboard door. The Irvington home-maker who showed me the idea says she can keep the door closed, and it is not so obvious to her guests and friends that she does most of her cooking from cans.

* * * *

If I hear just one more cheerful, loud, and laughing commercial at eight a.m. I may bounce the radio out the door. However, summer mornings are too nice to be disturbed by the crash of tubes and condensers, so I may stick to my former habit of pre-breakfast silence broken only by the distant wails of the children getting dressed.

* * * *

Contrary to what many people think, you do not HAVE to keep your children in when they have one of the contagious diseases. It is left up to the discretion of the parents, but as a mother of four in Newark said, it is a good idea to keep the germ-laden youngsters inside, or expect to be left out of future morning coffee'n chatter groups as a non-conformist.

* * * *

Another way to lose friends and make enemies is to burn trash some Monday morning, just when your down-wind neaghbors have a full wash line. Many areas have a rule against burning on Mondays, and you may agree with me, that we need one, too. No one likes to sleep on clean sheets that smell like burned chicken feathers!

* * * *

There is an article in a current magazine that should be required reading for all home owners. The article discloses some of the tricks used by the many companies that advertise home appliances for mere pennies, and then high pressure the prospect into a much more expensive product. Remember to take a few minutes to check local dealers, before falling for some fast-talking salesman.

* * * *

The way to a man's heart is through his stomach, and it's usually some fancy "dish" that gets him!

* * * *

How many cups of coffee do you usually make at once? If you like to make a pot-full, as I do, measure into a measuring cup the number of spoons you use for each batch and then place in the coffee can a small one-third, or one-fourth cup measure, and scoop out the correct amount with one dip. Saves time, and once you know the degree of blackness you like, it will be easy to have perfect coffee each time.

* * * *

The man of the family uses the above method in making his morning coffee at four a.m. on fishing days. Re-heating the left-over beverage seems to make it bitter, so now he pours what is left into a thermos bottle, and when I get up there is a fresh-tasting cup of coffee ready to be enjoyed immediately.

* * * *

Here is some information you can share with the family over supper tonight. According to a detailed Township map, tree names are the most popular for streets. Newark leads the field with twenty-five streets named after different varieties. Newark also can boast of having Wood Street and Grove Street. The name appearing most often in our Township street guide is Center or Central Street.

* * * *

To keep friends, remember to give them your "candied" opinions.

RITES HERE FOR MISS WILLIAMS

Funeral services were held here Monday in Chapel of the Palms for Miss Nell Williams, 59, member of a prominent local family, who died Thursday in her home on Centerville-Irvington Road after a brief illness.

Miss Williams was the sister of Lee S. and Burdette Williams, and for many years was a bookkeeper at the L. S. Williams produce company.

Survivors include another brother, Irving, of Edison; and her mother, Mrs. Eva Williams. Miss Williams was a native of Ogden, Utah.

The FARMERS CORNER

by Allen F. Mather
Executive Secretary Agricultural Council of California

GOOD BUSINESS

In recent days our papers have been full of reports of new employment and production records.

Certainly this must confound the pessimists who, but a year ago, were crying the imminent collapse of our national economy.

The first half of 1953, according to a survey by the National City Bank of New York, was a period of extraordinary business activity.

Trade, money income, employment, and production all set new highs.

Most segments of the economy went forward together. The one bleak spot was farm income, which ran counter to the trend.

Just why the farmer stands alone in a declining-price situation—and what to do about it—is the subject of bitter controversy currently raging among exponents of various approaches to the "farm program."

MERRILY ALONG

In the meantime, the rest of our economy rolls merrily along, with few signs of a letdown.

This record-breaking activity has had the support of what the economists call "the sustaining influences of great force."

One is the high level of government purchases of goods and services. Another is the unequaled spending on new plants and equipment.

Along with these, and in part flowing from them, has been an immense amount of other types of construction and a volume of consumer purchases of both durable and nondurable goods which also has set new records.

TO EASE

The experts look for it to continue well into the second half of the year. When the easing-off period arrives, sometime in the fall or winter, it will come in what they call "two elements of demand" which during the first half of the year were practically insatiable.

The first "element" is the replenishment of steel inventories, depleted by last year's strike. When these have been caught up there will definitely be a slack.

This unusual demand for steel, brought on by the strike, played a significant, though not easily measured, part of the record breaking which went on from January through June. Add to this the threat, since realized, of further wage increases and subsequent price advances and our extraordinary steel-mill activity of past months is understandable.

CONSUMER GOODS

The second "element of demand," heretofore tremendous but expected to ease, is the sales of automobiles and other consumer durable goods. These represent seasonal concentration of demand and depend upon a continuous expansion of consumer borrowing to be maintained. The experts do not believe it will.

A third possible element, which may or may not play a part in the easing of business activity during the second half of the year, has to do with housing.

Housing units started in May were 107,000, or some 3,000 less than in April. This was the first April-May decline since the end of the war.

JUSTIFIED OPTIMISM

But from the capital goods section of the economy, reports continue to justify optimism. Recently the Department of Commerce and the Securities & Exchange Commission reported the results of a survey of intended plant-and-equipment expenditures which indicate—for the first nine months of the year—an increase of seven percent over the same period of 1952.

DECOTO POSTAL JOB

Postmaster Mary B. Janeiro of Decoto anounced today applications are open for the job of postal clerk and carrier. Purpose of the move is to establish an eligibility list through tests, she added. Applications may be made at the Decoto Postoffice.

Cut Fremont Speed

A request that speed be restricted on Fremont Avenue was added Tuesday to one made last week by the Niles Chamber of Commerce.

Baine Leask made the request. He wanted speed held to "35 or 45 miles an hour" from Highway 9 to Santos Road.

Last week the chamber made a similar request for Highway 9 between King and Morrison Canyon Roads. Secretary Vernon Ellsworth agreed to add Leask's request to his letter to the State Division of Highways.

To Move Sign

Niles' Essanay sign, now located on the north side of Highway 9 at the Sullivan Underpass, will be moved shortly to the more-visible south side, Chamber of Commerce President C. W. Chrysler reported this week.

Chrysler said permission for the shift has been given by the Division of Highways, which controls the strip on the south.

FIRE TRUCKS FOR CIVIL DEFENSE

Two large fire trucks head the list of emergency equipment now on order for the Alameda County Civil Defense and Disaster Council, Sheriff H. P. Gleason has announced.

Authorized for purchase by the board of supervisors, the trucks are being obtained on a matching fund basis in cooperation with the Federal Office of Civil Defense. Total cost to the county will be $28,681. The trucks will be purchased locally.

Fire Chief Lester Oliveira of Ashland, area fire coordinator for the Council, will determine where the trucks are to be stationed, Gleason explained. They will supplement existing fire equipment in the county, and will be used for training auxiliary firemen.

Other emergency equipment now on order includes sheriff's reserve items, including raincoats, helmets, flashlights, floodlights, and power-driven megaphones, as well as 38 calibre guns to be used on the target range at Santa Rita.

Also in prospect are radiological detection instruments to be used in a monitoring course planned by the Sheriffs Department at Santa Rita. Other civil defense orders in prospect include mobile radio equipment for the County's rescue trucks, listing a public address system, mobile transmitter and receiver, and handi-talkies; a 16-mm. motion picture projector and screen for civil defense training purposes.

NILES CC WOULD LIFT SHOW TAX

A request that President Eisenhower do not veto the bill lifting a $100,000,000-a-year tax on theater admission was forwarded to the White House Tuesday by the Niles Chamber of Commerce.

Ted Tully, operator of the local movie house, asked and got support of the businessmen's group. Tully said if the tax is not repealed, as voted recently by Congress, it will mean "5000 little movie houses will go out of business in the next year."

Tully said the tax loss would be offset by taxing profits of the theaters, which otherwise would go bankrupt. The successful motion was proposed by Dr. E. C. Grau.

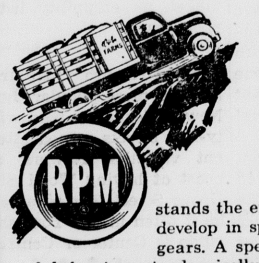
How to stop extra wear on gears



Even in the toughest operating conditions you can be sure your differential and transmission gears have full protection against wear by keeping the cases filled with RPM Multi-Service Gear Lubricant. It withstands the extreme pressures that develop in spiral bevel and hypoid gears. A special compound in the lubricant reacts chemically to form a lubricating, wear-resisting coating on the gear teeth.

RPM Multi-Service Gear Lubricant stands up in high operating temperatures and is oxidation resistant. It contains an anti-foaming agent that helps control expansion and prevent leakage. Ask us about RPM Multi-Service Gear Lubricant.

SMUGGLED ABOARD — Joan Garrison, 24, tells embarrassed Navy officer how a sailor boy friend smuggled her aboard the cruiser Los Angeles in Los Angeles harbor. KLAMATH FISHING GROUNDS OPENED

It took 30 years, but crews of the California Department of Fish and Game have pretty well cleaned out the old, abandoned mining dams in the upper Klamath River drainage area, reclaiming more than 210 miles of good steelhead and salmon spawning stream.

State stream clearance crews, helped by sportsmen and other interested parties, have knocked out 22 dams in the three-decade period. the State's bill totals only $3,000.

When the dams were installed 80 or 90 years ago, miners and domestic water users gave no thought to the effect their construction would have on salmon and steelhead runs. The laws requiring installation of fish ladders over dams proved unsatisfactory.

Instead of attempting to place fishways over all the obstructions in Trinity and Siskiyou steelhead streams, the fish and game agency set about destroying the old log dams as they became inactive.

This was not an easy assignment, an article in the July issue of the California Fish and Game Quarterly remarks. In the search for gold, the old-timers were not stopped by difficult country, and built their stream obstructions to stay. Some of those come across by State employees were 20 to 30 feet high, stretching as far as 117 feet across.

Bulldozers and dynamite were often required to open up the streams to migrating fish.

Even the legal problem involved was king-sized. Owner's permission had to be obtained for removing each dam. In one case over 40 years of correspondence was required to get an owner's go-ahead.

With the removal of all important dams in the two counties the whole drainage is now about as free from obstructions to migratory fish as it was 100 years ago, the article concludes.

PRE-SCHOOL HEALTH EXAMS URGED HERE

Health examinations for children in school were urged this week by Dr. James C. Malcolm, Alameda County Health Officer.

Under the sponsorship of P.T.A.'s in Washington Township, parents are requested to assist in the examination prigram when children are beginning school for the first time. Special forms are available at the school offices for parents to take to the family doctor.

"A careful examination in the doctor's office will reveal a youngster's readiness for the school program," says Dr. Malcolm. "When the doctor's report is sent to the school it will help the teacher and the nurse to plan for the needs of the individual child. One youngster may need more rest than others in a group. Another may hear better when seated on the left side of a room. Another may be under medical treatment for a difficulty which should be known to the teacher. Still others may need immunizations which can be taken care of most easily before school opens."

"Let's have the doctor's O.K. that our children are ready for school," says Mrs. Stanley Boone and Mrs. W. F. Otto, Health Chairmen for the Phoebe Hearst P.T.A. Council.

BEAU IN 'EXILE' — Capt. Peter Townsend, handsome Royal Air Force hero romantically linked with Princess Margaret, smiles from car as he leaves British embassy in Brussels, Belgium, to which he was transferred in a rumored "exile" move by royal family.

Busy Rotarians

Niles Rotarians will have a busy week later this month.

On August 27, the club will play host in the International Kitchen to District Governor Jess Vickery of Woodland, according to local President Richard Nicklasson.

ONLY SIX MONTHS BUT DEMOS ASK

Borrowing a leaf from their rival's book in 1948, Washington Township's new Democratic Club is launching a poll this week to determine if voters are tired of GOP administration yet.

We're asking one question," says Research Director Gordon Greb, of Irvington. "That's: 'Had Enough?'"

Results of the survey will be discussed August 21 at the club's meeting at Washington Union Hi, Greb said.

IT'S A MYSTERY— HOW DUCKS ESCAPE

(Practically everone guessed Ted Econome was last week's man of mystery. We'll make this one tougher. Find the clue buried under the inside news columns.)

One morning outside Alvarado 12 fat sprig came over. The Mystery Man and his shooting partner Joe Zwissig made them all stay on the pond—every one!

That's the outstanding memory our man of the week likes to recall. By this you can see he's a rabid hunter. (Excuse us, duck hunter)

He was born in good hunting country—Courtland, up the Sacramento River, in 1897. But malaria soon drove him and his family out of the swampy Delta. His father, a giant of a man at 225 pounds, came out on a stretcher.

Recovering, he took the family to Niles, opened a winery and wholesale distillery in 1900. The location: Morrison Canyon.

Our subject went to schools here and to "St. Mary's in theBricks" high school, in Oakland, commuting by train. Says he:

"Sometimes we were late getting home if we saw Jack Dempsey or one of the fighters around 30th and Broadway . . ."

But his fondest memories center on hunting ducks with his dad—who was known around the Township as "Two Duck Pete." The old man shot an 1885-model Parker double-barrel, and his son still has it. In fact he shoots only a mile from his father's old pond near Alvarado.

Getting down to business, he started selling cars in Niles in 1918 for Sid Holman and Bill Stebbins—Buicks, Chevrolets and Scripps-Booths. Later he sold in Centerville for Ed Rose.

But in 1931 he had married a San Jose girl whose family owned a Township business. He went over there in 1941, has been with it ever since.

With him, business is good every day except election day. His seafood feeds are a local—and county-wide tradition.

He likes to fish for stripers off Richmond and near Tracy. He likes to follow the trout in Calveras, Shasta and Placer counties.

But most of all he likes to sit in a duck blind near Alvarado and wait for the dawn to stir the birds
